

CERTIFIED
LAB GROWN DIAMONDS
Rounds & Fancies up to 21 carats!
In stock & ready to ship

SEE INVENTORY

OVERNIGHT
MOUNTINGS · SEMI-MOUNTS · FINISHED JEWELRY

INSTORE Demi Moore Looks Swanlike in Cartier Jewels at Premiere of FX's 'Feud: Capote vs. The Swans'

CELEBRITY JEWELRY

Demi Moore Looks Swanlike in Cartier Jewels at Premiere of FX's 'Feud: Capote vs. The Swans'

She wore all black and white pieces from the renowned house and an on-theme Balmain gown.

Published 4 months ago on February 7, 2024
By Beth Bernstein

Embed from Getty Images

NEW YORK, NEW YORK - JANUARY 23: Demi M... see more

WireImage | Arturo Holmes

BEFORE I EVEN get to the jewelry, let's talk about the Balmain gown that Demi Moore wore to the premiere of FX's Feud: Capote vs. The Swans. She kept on theme, as many actresses seem to be doing these days at premieres with gowns that evoke their character or the essence of the film or series. Moore did this by wearing a black and white gown with feathers and a swan motif on the front. And all I can say is wow. It was a crowd pleaser and stood out among the coordinated all-black-and-white-clad A-listers who are in the Ryan Murphy series. But we will get to that later.

Moore, who portrays socialite and radio actress Ann Woodward in the series, also donned jewelry by Cartier, all in black and white – onyx, diamonds and 18K white gold. The jewelry, including classic Cartier panther pieces in earrings and rings and others with a decidedly Art Deco feeling of Cartier in the 1920s, complemented her look to perfection.

Now let's dish about the limited series. Based on the true-to-life book Capote's Women, by Laurence Leamer, it features Ryan Murphy as executive producer, Jon Robin Baitz as writer and Gus Van Sant as director of six episodes. The show examines how Truman Capote befriended and ultimately betrayed the high-society women whom he called his Swans after an excerpt from his unfinished novel was published in Esquire magazine in 1975. It gave away the secrets of the upper echelon of Manhattan, of which he originally was eager to be a part. The series also recounts his rise to fame and his downward spiral into alcoholism and drug abuse. But I will let you watch and see what you think of the series, while I swoon over the jewelry and fashion.

After watching the pilot and second episode, I was left wanting to see more of the costume design, which was well-chosen for the characters, from Mainbocher gowns to juicy Verdura and other renowned designer jewelry.

The Swans, each dressed to perfection in the series, include a roster of famous actresses: Naomi Watts as Babe Paley, Diane Lane as Slim Keith, Calista Flockhart as Lee Radziwill, Chloë Sevigny as C.Z. Guest and, of course, Moore.

But back to Moore at the premiere. She was the essence of why Capote originally dubbed the socialites “swans,” showing off her beauty and perfectly capturing the timeframe of the series.

ADVERTISEMENT

RELATED TOPICS: #FEATURED

Beth Bernstein

Beth Bernstein is a published author of three books and jewelry and fashion expert with 18+ years experience. A broad knowledge of the history of jewelry and fashion coupled with a background in "the story", writing, trends, design concepts has earned Beth a proven track record.

||
with

What do you think?

3 Responses

Upvote

Funny

Love

Surprised

Angry

Sad

0 Ratings

0 Comments

Beth Bernstein ▾

Rate and comment ★★★★★

B

Start the discussion...

Share

Best Newest Oldest

Be the first to comment.

Subscribe

Privacy

Do Not Sell My Data

DON'T MISS

Judge the Jewels: Gwyneth Paltrow Wears Enormous Earrings to a Movie Premiere

UP NEXT

Taylor Swift at the 2024 Grammys: She Had the Best Album and the Best Jewelry

ADVERTISEMENT

SPONSORED VIDEO

When the Kids Have Their Own Careers, Wilkerson Can Help You to Retire

Alex and Gladys Rysman are the third generation to run Romm Jewelers in Brockton, Mass. And after many decades of service to the industry and their community, it was time to close the store and take advantage of some downtime. With three grown children who each had their own careers outside of the industry, they decided to call Wilkerson. Then, the Rysmans did what every jeweler should do: They called other retailers and asked about their own Wilkerson experience. "They all told us what a great experience it was and that's what made us go with Wilkerson," says Gladys Rysman. The results? Alex Rysman says he was impressed. "We exceeded whatever I expected to do by a large margin."

YOU MAY LIKE

Judge the Jewels: I Can't Stop Thinking About Anna Wintour's Met Gala Brooch

Judge the Jewels: Eva Mendes Loves This Ring So Much That She Made a Whole Instagram Video About It

Judge the Jewels: Selena Gomez and Meghan Markle Both Love These Jennifer Meyer Earrings

PROMOTED HEADLINES

The Art of Illusion

Gladys Rysman
President, Romm Diamonds

Alex Rysman
President, Romm Diamonds

MOST POPULAR

PHOTO GALLERY / 11 hours ago
44 Jewelry Memes Sure to Give You a Laugh [Updated]

PHOTO GALLERY / 1 week ago
Couture: What Will the Trends Be During Las Vegas Jewelry Week?

HEADLINES / 3 days ago
California Jewelry Store Ransacked by More Than 12 Suspects

PHOTO GALLERY / 1 week ago
Flowers and Pearls Combine in This Beautiful New Collection from Imperial Pearl

SPONSORED CONTENT / 1 day ago
The Art of Illusion

CELEBRITY JEWELRY / 6 days ago
Judge the Jewels: Selena Gomez and Meghan Markle Both Love These Jennifer Meyer Earrings

INSTORE®

GENERAL
About Us
Contact Us
Privacy Policy
Terms of Use

SUBSCRIBE
Magazine
Newsletter
Brain Squad

ADVERTISE
Advertise in INSTORE
INSTORE Raves
Download Media Kit
INSTORE Classifieds

LATEST DIGIMAG

JUNE 2024

- Big Story: INSTORE Design Awards 9th Annual Edition
- Top 4 Trends to Watch at This Year's Tradeshows
- Megan Crabtree: Follow These 6 Strategies For Thriving in the Off-Season

READ ISSUE

